BOBCAT  COUNTRY

sometimes it happened on saturday

WED COCK R

we portrayed tradition: a trophy . . . one built by story of a flower, a queen, building. us, for those, once us, who return . . .

we played too: a saturday of chaos, with or without order flood: another holiday the alternatives of living . . .

an individual's choice there are we . . . there are they

Our Man . . .

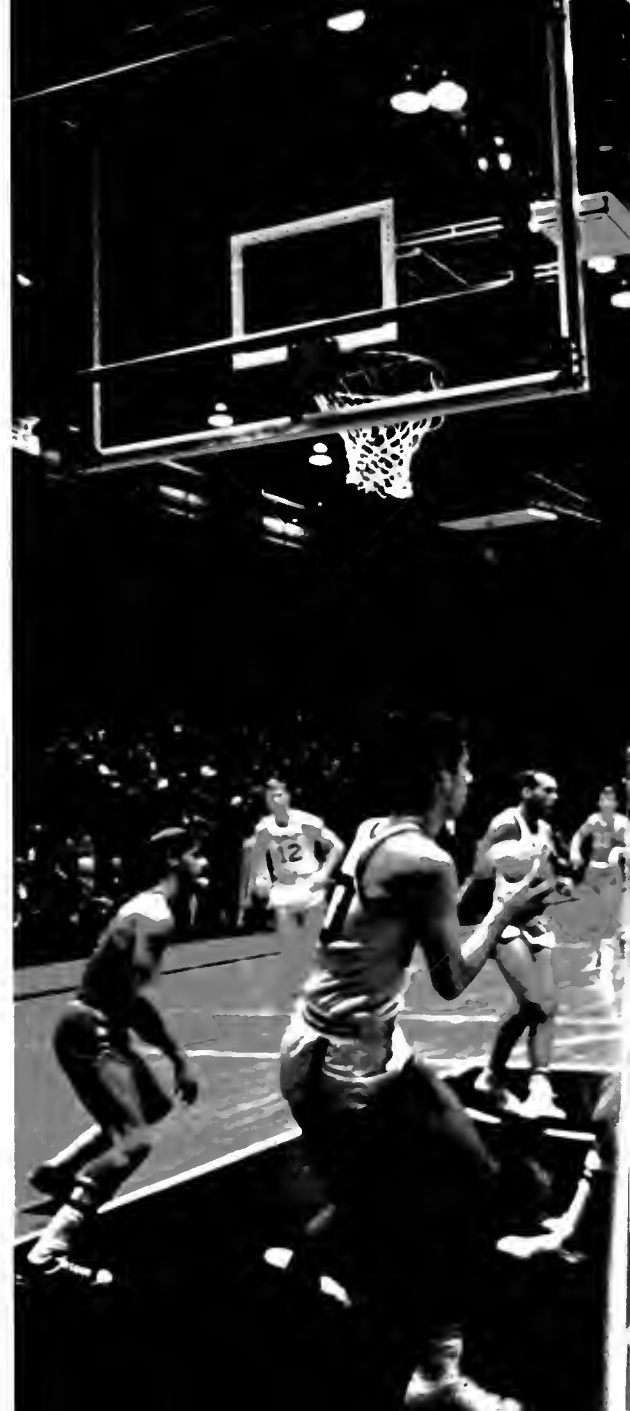

their man.

Just another happening.

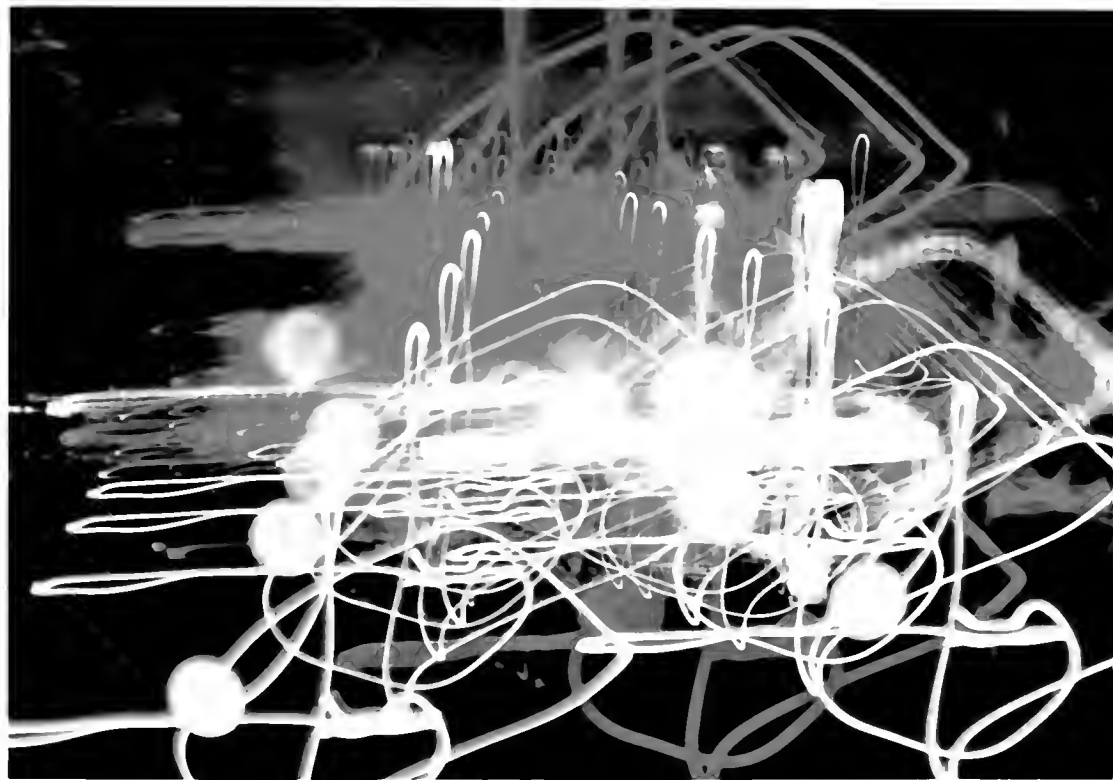

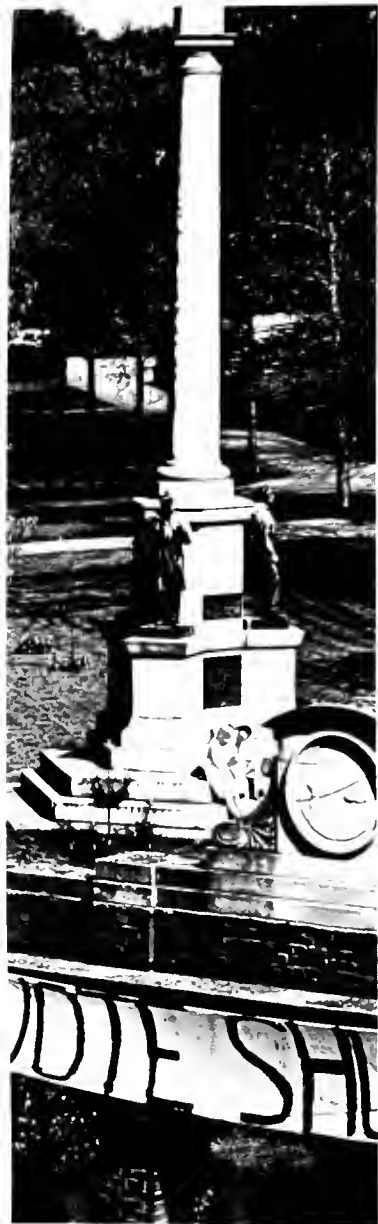

Santa Claus, 2-S.

some call it politics, a contest to fill decision-making roles we looked outward, together, in the same direction spring told the story of a journey architects designed, actors told audiences watched and judged victory climaxed it: the journey into history a ceremony warrants a final departure to a new art of living

Sheldon Hartman, Business Manager it happens, a space, people, a product an entity in itself but part of that outside those there live life but different from those outside each is one, but with ones together, focuses a total image—a staff photographers, artists, writers, business and sales “men” and more, too many to be counted, but faces you know and also their job a record they built of that happening, now, later, when completed is one a lens reflects the partial product—visual letters and words—identity to those of whom it is done a deadline, time is crucial they did it early and upon it built it, the story is not them but only by them silence broken by the urgent snap of the wire a persistent tick, wire service, upi—from here and elsewhere came news at another end, a camera tells a new point open doors in an office vibrate talk and there reaction and controversy breed decision always there are people and a paper is born evening and all hours, editors and others decipher and select that happening, and written to be happening around them then in the hours following, it is read by those unaware of news communication, written, daily in a daily a newspaper at Ohio

IRVINE

bromley hall in the tallest building of southeastern ohio live ohio students—a vast number an innovation once, but a permanent living unit now co-ed living in two kinds of pool, the water pool and pool table they live a life of leisure, games and study a private phone, a single roommate—conveniences conveniences spelled Bromley it's hot outside in a cool room air-conditioning, another convenience many things happen weekly: cleaning and senate meetings—those forces which maintain existence for those persons there brown hall designs on paper of thin white lines blue plans them and steel later a frame for life there now time passed and long it was until the flesh of brick was seen and felt and there nights were long, cold in corridors with no heat no electricity prevented light and such necessities studying was with flashlights and shadows sleeping in rec rooms, but living in brown hall gamertsfelder hall scouring bryan hill round glass suns in dorm halls wgam . . . call letters of a radio: communication sends life to those inside and out interaction in living teas, breakfasts, mixers spell social life in the giant on the lower green homecoming trophies reward a house decoration, a colored creation first notch torch singers sound spring at mom's weekend another living behind its trophies is seen in accomplishment, and hence, an award:

a gam man of the year and most improved resident awards activity, leadership and scholarship gam service and participation life is what it is byrd arena trembles under the sound with bush hall's battle of the hands bushmen to throw a party to be big—they invite others to create a bigness award-winning homecomings seen in house decs, a story told finally of wire, tweaking, fire christmas firesides, carols festive inside and out yet full schedules of activities being teas, mixers bushmen in uniforms of basketball and football athletics in a sense bushmen with underprivileged athens children faculty fellows to bush and college bowl, intra-Ohio competition a little building—a big name james hall halls so long the ends invisible a distinction: the largest dorm here it's home is the west green basketball champs and a goat—a mascot teas and mixers parties for orphans moms and dads also activities in living here intradorm trophies for citizens and also scholars now an electrical college bowl faculty fellows reflect bigness culture and enthusiasm james is big grosvenor hall the president's scholastic trophy rewarded the highest freshman average grade proved academic success, but it alone did not spell life here. fun was a grosvenor grundy and asylum picnic homecoming came as did christmas tree trimming and athletes then the intramurals happen screams and cheers for pep rallying grosvenor the spirit dorm irvine hall

two years, three hundred men, irvine a dorm, but more, a place of living a mass of rooms, work under a new idea a house system, six units and government decision makers and progress two years and men building and irvine is a place homecoming victories and people working j-prom and active athletes irvine is a place to live parks hall a home surrounded by the hocking a threat of evacuation each spring—it becomes an ark to many, an annual thing water is only little of parks teas and spirit, the campus king with cheering many at pep rallies a program—faculty fellows and debate—the college bowl animals to intramuralize an annual christmas party for athens foundlings an ark holds a lot

perkins hall

mr. independent and the freshman queen two accomplishments conquered in living for perkins hall, the ends of effort effort, too, for homecoming and j-prom alone and with another group not without satisfaction and smallness is not ineffective for scholars college bowl and people—faculty fellows intramural triumphs for athletes teas, breakfasts, mixers to the social all essential for life in the corridors perkins make smallness big sargent hall the sarges of sargent hall march down corridors, chains of rooms residents they say, lodged in the west green complex a path passes it as it catches structures life here is every road: a cultural program with faculty fellows and a library the dedication by president alden, Ohio ambassador who visits often homecoming happens here also: dad's and mom's weekend parties mixers and teas for socializing athletic teams for lauralizing sarges enjoy marching interaction is their pace washington hall towers are over many, many in washington under the tower many are athletes of the dorm, of ohio, of far off places visiting . . . washington and sports—synonyms to many; such is a real thing to those removed from athletics are teas, mixers and christmas formals here and another somewhere being the washington sweetheart big brothers to know where and how and maybe why the story of the washington tower biddle hall

it changes hands and never sure is one girls or guys a year hence brought girls and also government re-organization a house system accomplishments on an academic level were sought but not alone could it stand halloween was a house-pumpkin carving contest and then activities for dads christmas, decorations, parties, caroling spirit inside - a story to tell outside the year continued and so also the life at biddle silence in finals and visits from little sisters spring and finals again so the days passed life at biddle

bryan hall and so, a tower and a castle, a rose table symbols in the story of living in bryan atop a hill on the main campus rose, red, tells the story of a pinning. tradition, essential in living here is found in murphy an elevator . . . so also, bathtubs bamboo rooms provide a lounge . . . unique decoration with an older tone . . . stature is the shadows of life it reflects of the campus to the green below it a tower and a castle . . . older and tradition crook hall a path flanked by buildings points to its face a symbol of west green existence inside are 540 girls, together ohio's largest dorm a brick facade is like that of others, but inside life is its own freshmen wash cars and others join to sponsor an easter egg hunt for children's home a part of life these activities are but also is the academic excellence sought here as anywhere but promoted or urged by parties of pizza for the floorsections with highest grades crook . . . at the end of the walk to living on a green west of here johnson hall

it's green is east smaller than some, but in the same a unit for living homecoming came and so wire and paper in multiple hues effort was victory and now a trophy flanked it is by larger dorms but competitive still in activities is found interaction that not provided singly by a mass or corridors or rooms december was christmas and so caroling and parties for orphans and residents johnson . . . a president a dorm and living, here howard hall

a hotel once, now a symbol on a corner credited as the oldest unit here traffic it watches as paths converge outside and go one each way inside activity creates life:
life is activity internal and external faculty fellows, a cultural plan the lounge exhibits art parties for parents on their weekends and also campus events: sadie hawkins and siglympics sports howard: an older structure progressive living jefferson hall

living on a large scale 400 girls under a tower—under a signal to position on the east green a dorm complex below an academic and administrative community above lost not in a vastness of corridors but found: strength and direction in scholarship promoted and recognized in small units and individually and from the corridors downstairs a public community fosters life in a cafeteria and library and one more one more floor recreation for all those who visit in spring and fall the patio dances and mixers jeff: interaction in a community lindley hall a landmark so they say for older than most it is a double staircase and two exists, marble and handshake halls . . . lead to one, a living unit for 400 girls on court street expression from residents becomes news in the publication, lindley lines . . . participants lindley coeds. were in siglympics with a queen and homecoming . . . a travelog and speaker combined as a new program for cultural aims the majestic landmark treudley hall an innovation once, an honor dorm it was now a successful unit of living in a larger green area independent growth they claim is the virtue where time is no consequence or being life happens there with graduate teas, a formal at christmas with a millview scene and a spring weekend non-existant is a judicial system for regulations are not functions application is a prerequisite for admittance attitudes and ability to adjustment freedom of expression being the standard treudley, an experiment, now real ryors hall life in a structure, riverside new when its first resident experimented just one year ago the structure is complete now, minus workmen and their construction tools but experimented through many, life takes not one road, speech, english, a european presentation all are identified as faculty fellows student government, a structure was explained early in the year to ryors women and others from the dorm community close by those in control as leaders and representatives angel-pixie week was christmas at ryors a smaller existence with new life finalized.

scott quad

from life in a courtyard to a river view on another green is the home now . . . the West green a complex of units makes one separated only by name an older structure, they say, is scott a midyear life for 479 moved from Scott to Boyd a new living place . . . before a move, Christmas was tradition but in many ways supplemented . . . new things to celebrate gifts went from "scott correspondents" to those in a country of a country of war, vietnam more, girls did in siglympics and homecoming and so, the story of a complex changes face and character and no longer sees women in its life a living, a oneness, scott, and the courtyard

WELCOME MEN FROM HOME

WE NEED YOU
FOR THE LSD AFFAIR

shively hall on the other side of a green of two towers over and under persons, live a unit an activities honorary for outstanding women credits those, participant, in functions in and outside the dorm a recognition dinner honors officers and those in similar roles as the year ends living is not all activities directed for honor and recognition christmas is shively and so inner groups together as one come to celebrate december festivities mixers, an open house and parties for orphans is living here also academics not to be forgotten but neither social happenings and so is life at shively wilson hall

living in a green complex away from central campus and that below it west green they call it first hall it was in a new development residents claim a handbook—policy explanation interaction in living is social life there a dance, “dogpatch” and parties for welfare children all examples of social interaction a structure of semi-regulated living via an honor system tiffin hall homecoming was a victory this year a queen, Marilyn life inside is seen outside connected by a courtyard crosswalks to living on other small groups groups in a community activities like those of others are characteristics of living football, power-puff style, matched elements brawn against men's communities on the green voigt hall pillars, a facade and an entrance tell a southern tale on college street and with this, is activity directed toward a tradition inherent in tradition: a unity circle—a beginning of every year interaction on the floors and then the dorm together, as one paper, tweaking, a house dec greets homecoming a ride on the hay a hayride and more within the activities individual as they are

The UNION"

The Ohio University Alumni Association

Upon your graduation from Ohio University, you automatically become a member of the Ohio University Alumni Association and will begin receiving The Ohio Alumnus at no cost. This publication serves as a continuous contact between you and your Alma Mater.

Most likely, wherever in the country you settle, there will be an alumni club nearby. We heartily urge you to check on the location of such an organization and become an active member in it. We're sure you will agree there are many good times and strong friendships to be found within an Ohio University alumni group. Keep this alive by active participation in your local chapter.

Kentucky Fried Chicken, that is. Why? Because it's prepared with U.S. Government inspected Grade A broilers that are dipped in milk and eggs, then rolled in flour . . . and seasoned with 11 different spices and herbs. "It's finger lickin' good" because KFC is NOT pre-cooked, par-boiled, or french-fried. Instead, it's cooked in specially designed patented equipment that seals in all the natural juices and goodness. Everybody's lickin' fingers over Kentucky Fried Chicken. Your family will, too.

A product is a stopping point of time and effort. The staffers have endured both time and efforts to produce the product . . . the 1967 ATHENA. You were shrewd enough to enter into the mass of words and photographs in order to see the world of Ohio University.

Our advisors, Mr. David Smith, Mr. Clarence White, and Mr. John Baldwin, have survived the "happenings" of our process. To these people and certainly Miss Margaret Deppen, Dean of Student Activities, we owe many well-earned thank-you's and salutations.

Our printer, Wm. J. Keller Inc., added to our product with their sincere cooperation. The 95 pages of color were reproduced with hand separations from 35 mm transparencies.

To a staff that has assumed many obligations, I owe my deepest appreciation. Many unexpected situations were met; but with an insurmountable amount of enthusiasm, the staff united to produce what you are now reading . . . the 1967 ATHENA.

William W. DuBois
Editor, 1967 ATHENA
